Faculty of Humanities Universitas Indonesia (FIB UI) offer doctoral programs in the humanities, which include Archaeology, Philosophy, History, Literary and Cultural studies, and Linguistics:

- Doctoral Program in Archaeology
- Doctoral Program in Philosophy
- Doctoral Program in Literary and Cultural Studies
- Doctoral Program in History
- Doctoral Program in Linguistics

Courses Required

- Philosophy and Methodology of Science
- Theory and Methodology of the Humanities
- Special Theory and Methodology *
- Research Proposal
- Directed Reading
- Research Progress Report
- Oral Defense
- Promotion

* based on the specific study program taken ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS

• Applicants are graduate of a master’s program with a minimum GPA 3.00 (out of 4.00);

• International applicants should also provide evidence of Indonesian language proficiency as required by the university regulation. Registration for international applicants shall be conducted through International Office;

• Applicants pass the Aptitude Test (TPA) with a minimum score of 550 or produce evidence of having a 550 GMAT score or GRE score that is still valid in the year of registration. A minimum score of 500 on TOEFL or 6.0 on IELTS is also required, or passing the English Test administered by the university as part of the selection process;

• Applicants must fulfil all the requirements for documents, and attend an interview, as well as submit an abstract of research plan (approximately 1000 words) containing research interest and research topic toward the dissertation writing;

• Applicants have good command of an additional foreign language if their research needs proficiency in a particular language;

• Applicants from other disciplinary backgrounds than the one chosen, or are deemed to need a remedial program to enhance their competence in the program they choose, must attend the matriculation program set by the study program;

• Applicants who formerly studied in the postgraduate program but dropped out for any reason are not eligible for admission to the program as new students (Dean’s circular no. 3532/UN2.F7.D1/PDP.03/2015).

SELECTION MECHANISM

The selection process for the doctoral program is conducted simultaneously for all programs by Universitas Indonesia; applicants should register online at http://penerimaan.ui.ac.id and upload the required documents to the website; satisfactory fulfillment of the required documents is part of the admission conditions; applicants must also pass the Aptitude Test and English Test.

The entrance test is conducted twice in two batches.; the results will be announced by Universitas Indonesia to all applicants on the website: http://penerimaan.ui.ac.id.
LOAD AND PERIOD OF STUDY

The study load for the doctoral program is 48-52 cr, which can be completed in six semesters or minimum four semesters and maximum 10 semesters. Doctoral students can apply for an extension of study to a maximum one year if:

- They have never applied for an extension before;
- They have obtained a minimum grade B for the Oral Defense;
- They can produce a letter of recommendation from the promotor (supervisor) showing that there is a force majeure, and a guarantee that they will be able to complete their study;
- Extension of study period is issued by the Rector based on the Dean’s recommendation, which is proposed at least three months before the beginning of the administrative registration period.

MATRICULATION PROGRAM

- Matriculation Program is designed to upgrade the competence level of the students to the minimum level needed to enroll to the doctoral's program;
- Applicants whose disciplinary backgrounds are different from the program enrolled or whose competence level is not adequate enough to begin their study in the master’s program shall attend the matriculation program;
- Requirements of enrollment in the Matriculation Program:
  a. Admitted as a candidate in the Doctoral's Program;
  b. Completed the administrative registration within the time period set in the University's academic calendar.
- Requirements of attendance in the Matriculation Program are as follow:
  a. Matrikulation courses are determined by the Study Program at a level lower than the main degree program that applicants want to join;
  b. The maximum number of credit points for the Matriculation Program is 12 cr.;
  c. Matriculation Program lasts at least 1 semester and at the most 2 semesters before the Study Program can make a decision on whether an applicant can continue to the main degree program;
  d. Matriculation Program includes further exploration in theories and research methodologies related to the discipline;
  e. Students are allowed to continue to the main degree program after satisfactorily passing the matriculation courses with a minimum GPA of 3.00;
  f. Matriculation Program is not counted as part of the study period in the Doctoral’s Program.

INFORMATION

Public Relation of Faculty of Humanities, UI

Tel : (62 21) 7863528/29
Fax : (62 21) 7270038

E-mail : humas@fib.ui.ac.id
Twitter : @fib_ui
Website : www.fib.ui.ac.id